The long-awaited Student Council for George Washington is an accomplished fact, and we may discard point four of our platform—unless we have to fight now for something for the Council to do.

Between 900 and 1,000 votes were cast for the first election of a student council—the University in its palmy days under the class officer regime never saw a quarter of that many legitimate votes cast.

This University has well organized political parties despite their lack of names. Despite elaborate advertising, scrawled posters, and frantic electioneering, the two-party line-up was split in a way that leads us to believe many voted for the man instead of for the caucus choice.

The "straight-ticket" vote was, in fact, noticeably lacking. One observer remarked that marking ballots in such a haphazard manner instead of marking the straight ticket made the counting take much longer. It must have, for the results were not known until the next day, whereas in Presidential elections we can almost always tell who is winning by the returns late at night on the day of the election.

The political system at G. W. has a notable defect—the parties are not named. We propose that that party headed by Joe Howard be called the Right and that headed by Dorothy Albert be termed the Left. The party of the Right has seven members on the Student Council; the party of the Left has four; Independents account for the other three. And as it is known that henceforth Dick Rollo is an Independent. We think we can't sacrifice our journalistic standing by advocating any party in preference to the other. Also it seems to us that the Independents hold the balance of power.

Something will have to be done about the women on this campus. We have grown used to seeing a woman at the head of The Cherry Tree for the past two years, and so were prepared for the shock of the third consecutive female editor, but now look at The Hatchet!

After gobbling up The Wig, The Ghost, and The Handbook, after moving into gorgeous new quarters (though still using the same rickety furniture), the old editorial board walks the plank, and an incoming group headed by a co-ed takes charge. For the first time in its 27 years, The Hatchet has a woman editor.

Tomorrow night the Columbian seniors will meet to select a president whose sole duties will be to preside at class night, when all the prizes are passed out, you know, and to pass down at the same time a rather moth-eaten gown, toga, or robe to the junior class representative as a mantle bearing the best wishes and the farewells of the seniors.

What they really ought to do tomorrow night is to appoint a committee to count the moth-eaten pieces, and a second commission to sew them up, or soon there won't be any mantle, and then they won't need a senior president.

Wonder who's going to get an honorary degree this June? We've already given Herb Hoover one.

We have deferred our comment on the Pannel Prom until last. So far as we can see, about the only people who didn't enjoy the affair were the men who received return bids on the strength of Interfraternity Prom dates. They had to pay for another corage, another meal at Child's, and another full complement of laundry and pressing. The stage got by for a dollar, and could choose their dancing partners, while the drags had to dance with sorority sisters, and—oh, well, why go into that?

As for The Petticoat, we think there must be a law making it as passe as its namesake.

NEW GROUP HEADS EDITORIAL STAFF OF 1930 HATCHET

Dorothy Albert, First Woman Editor in 27 Years, Now In Office

BUSINESS STAFF ALSO ANNOUNCED FOR PAPER
William Thomson Is New Manager Of Business Affairs Of Publication

With the exodus of the former Board of Editors, a new group, composed of Dorothy Albert, editor, and Miriam DeHaas, Willard Hammer, Cecile Harrington, Fletcher Henderson, Maude Hudson, Harriet Rissler, and Frank Weitzel, associate editors, has taken over the management of The University Hatchet. This new board was elected at the last meeting of the former board, held Thursday night, May 7.

At the same time, the appointment of the new business staff for The Hatchet was announced. The business staff, under the direction of William Thomson, will be divided into Advertising, Circulation, Office and Service departments, each under a manager responsible to the Business Manager.

Dorothy Albert, the first woman editor in twenty-seven years, has participated in many campus activities. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, Gamma Eta Zeta, and Hour Glass Society. Two years in Troubadours, varsity basketball, Women's Advisory Council, Student Council, Women's G. W. Club, the office of Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. here, and the chairmanship of the "Little Sister" movement, are listed to her credit.

Associate Editors

Fletcher Henderson, a member of Theta Delta Chi and Pi Delta Epsilon, holds the position of Assistant Editor on the Hatchet. Last year he was assistant manager of football, and this year he heads the committee on publication of the G. W. Handbook.

Frank Weitzel, secretary to the editorial board, is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and Delta Phi Epsilon. He has served The Hatchet as reporter and assistant editor.

Maude Hudson claims Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Eta Zeta. Her services on The Hatchet have included the positions of junior reporter and assistant editor. She belongs to the Y. W. C. A. has been on the Cherry Tree staff for three years, and was a member of the Troubadour chorus for one year.

Cecile Harrington is a member of Alpha Delta Pi and the committee on the publication of the G. W. Handbook.

Harriette Rissler, who belongs to Chi Omega and Gamma Eta Zeta, is on the Handbook committee, and was first junior reporter, then assignment editor of The Hatchet and also dramatic editor of The Cherry Tree. She played the lead in the Troubadours "Sometime Soon."

Willard Hammer, a member of Acadia, has been a junior reporter and assistant editor of The Hatchet.

Miriam DeHaas, a member of Gamma Eta Zeta, served on the staff of the Colonial Wig.

Two members of the editorial staff, Wallis Schutt and Frank Westbrook, have been elected by the new board to the group of assistant editors.

The current issue is the product of the new editorial staff.

Business Staff

The new business staff, under the management of William Thomson, includes Richard Castell, Advertising manager, assisted by Gerald Free; William Sterrett, Circulation Manager, assisted by John Caul and Everett Dahl; Edwin Stumm, Office Manager, assisted by Evelyn Eller and Evelyn Iverson; and Elizabeth Rees, Service Manager, assisted by Virginia Gummel and Stephen Nyman. Each manager will be directly responsible to the business manager, and each assistant will be responsible to the head of his department.

STUDENT ARTS EXHIBIT

The Division of Fine Arts of George Washington University is presenting an exhibition of student work, during the week of May 11 to 25 at the New National Museum.

All phases of the work are represented in the 284 pieces being shown.

ARTISTS HEAR LECTURE

Many Notables To Be At Newman Club Ball

Charles Curtis, Vice-President of the United States, Heads List of Patrons

The Vice-President, the Honorable Charles Curtis, will head the list of patrons for the second annual Newman Prom which will be held at the Congressional Country Club on Friday evening, May 16. Other patrons for the affair are: The Ambassador of Italy, Nobile Giacomo de Martino; the Ambassador of Spain, Senor Don Alejandro Padilla y Bell; the Ambassador of France and Madame Claude; the Ambassador of Great Britain and Lady Lindsay; the Charge d'Affaires of Argentina and Senora Echeibon; the Minister of Colombia and Senora de Olaya; the Minister of Austria and Madame Prochnik; the Minister of the Irish Free State, Mr. Michael MacWhite; the Minister of Yugoslavia, Dr. Leonide Pitamic; Senator and Mrs. James Couzens; Senator David I. Walsh; Admiral William S. Benson; Dr. Charles Clinton Swisher; Mr. Theodore Maynard and Mr. James F. Nolan.

Attendance at the Prom will be limited to members of the Newman Club, invited friends and guests. Members of the Newman Clubs of Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania, the Charles Carroll Club of Johns Hopkins and the Gibbons Club of the College of William and Mary, are expected to attend. An interesting program of entertainment has been arranged for the Saturday and Sunday following the Prom in honor of out-of-town guests.

The committee in charge of the Prom is composed of Mary Kerwin, chairman; Thomas Bentley, Helen Brosnan, Walter Delaney, Jose Espinosa, Bernard Faetau, Paul Finigan, Agnes O'Brien, Helen O'Brien, Walter O'Brien, Edward Orzoco and Robert Phelps.

Chaperones for the Prom will be Dr. and Mrs. D'Arcy McGeer and Miss Louise McGuire.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED BY COLUMBIAN DEBATERS

On Friday evening, May 16, the Columbian Debating Society will hold its semester elections. The officers to be elected are president, first and second vice president, secretary, treasurer, and critic. A typical election with every office being hotly contested is anticipated.

The election will conclude the activities of the society for the present school term, the newly elected officers serving for the first semester of next year. Ralph Morgali is the present president having held the office for the past semester.

SOCIETY HAS ELECTIONS

Jane Menefee was elected president, Virginia Gummel recording secretary, and Ray Miller corresponding secretary of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic fraternity for freshmen women, at the meeting held May 6 in the Pi Beta Phi Rooms. According to the compromise plan finally adopted, the president and the secretaries will be elected in March and the vice president and treasurer in October, so that those women taken in according to marks made in June will have an opportunity to be elected.

New Cherry Tree Appears Tomorrow; Is Complete Pictorial Record of Year

Mystery of Miss Colonial Belle To Be Revealed At Last; Other Interesting Features In Book

The 1930 Cherry Tree will go on sale tomorrow, May 15, in the Bursar's office and at the Medical School. The book is awaited with much interest, as the identity of Miss Colonial Belle will be made known at that time. The "Features" section of the book has been dedicated to the winner of this popularity contest.

Other features of the book include photographs of campus scenes and buildings, and colonial sketches in color form the theme of the annual. The dedication pages of the Cherry Tree carry a two-page drawing of the future George Washington University, "Sidelights" on our Professors consists of four pages of silhouettes of well known professors on the campus, and in the same feature section miniatures of the former Ghost and Wig appear with their usual line of humor and literature.

The Cherry Tree sells for four dollars a copy, subscribers who have paid deposits will be given preference in the sale of books in case there are not enough copies the first few days.

The Cherry Tree has been published by members of the student body under the direction of a Board of Editors, of which Dorothy Ruth was chairman, and Henry Herzog business manager. The book con-

NEW PUBLIC SPEAKING COURSES ARE OFFERED

Advanced Students in Debate To Be Favored By Enlarged Schedule

The Department of Public Speaking has announced two new courses, Public Speaking 125 and 126, to be offered next fall for instruction in debating for advanced students. The courses will be of especial interest for the members of the debating squads, and it is expected that a number of the persons selected to represent the University in debates with other institutions will be selected from the membership of the classes. However, membership on the squads will not be limited to that of the new classes.

It is the hope of the Department of Public Speaking that all students interested in the work of the debating teams will attend the lectures so far as possible but regular academic credit for work accomplished will only be given to students who have the necessary prerequisites for enrollment in Public Speaking 5, and Advanced Debating Public Speaking 122, and do the required amount of preparation and class work.

It is believed that the new courses will be beneficial in that they will enable those interested in debating activities to get together and discuss the questions proposed for argument by the teams. It will also afford the part-time student an opportunity to accomplish much of his preparation as a part of his regular school course, instead of on his own time and initiative as at present.

Under present plans, it is proposed to have the class meet at 7.30 or 8.00 o'clock, on Wednesdays, throughout the year for a two-hour session. Three semester hours of credit will be given or six hours for the entire year, towards an academic degree.

LOCAL GROUP PETITIONS SOCIAL SCIENCE GROUP

Phi Gamma Mu Object of University Organization; Officers Chosen

Frank H. Weitzel, member of the Junior class, was named the first president of the George Washington University organization, petitioning Phi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, at the second meeting, held Friday night in Building J.

Other officers chosen are: Vice-president, Paul D. Dickens, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and Secretary-Treasurer, Nathan L. Perls, member of the Junior class, Columbian College.

With Dr. John Donaldson, member-at-large and organizer of the George Washington group, acting as chairman, the business of organizing was completed. Phi Gamma Mu has for its purpose the reward of scholarly achievement and the encouragement of service and research in the field of the social sciences. The chapter here is to be known as the Washington-Beta chapter.

The constitution adopted by the group here provides for the selection of members by the council of faculty members from those students attaining to the index figure of 2.5 in at least twenty hours of work in the departments of History, Economics, Political Science, Sociology and work in the "social aspects of related fields."

HENDERSON WILL EDIT HANDBOOK FOR 1930-31

Next Edition Will Be Larger Than Last Year's

A committee for the organization and publication of the George Washington University Handbook was appointed by the editorial board of The Hatchet, held Sunday, April 27. The editorial committee is composed of Fletcher Henderson, Cecile Harrington, and Harriette Rissler, while the business of the publication will be conducted by Richard Castell, Thomas Mitchell, and Henry Amos. At a meeting of this committee last Friday afternoon, Fletcher Henderson was elected chairman.

The prospective handbook will be half again as large as that of last year, and a more elaborate plan is intended, a feature of which may be a binding in imitation leather. A most successful handbook is expected.

Mrs. Marvin Heads List of Patronesses

Glee Club Will Present Difficult Program On Recital At Mayflower

Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin will head the list of patronesses at the concert and dance of The George Washington University Men's Glee Club to be held in the Mayflower Hotel ballroom commencing at 8.30 p. m., Tuesday, May 20. Other patronesses include Mrs. Joshua Evans, Mrs. Charles E. Hill, Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, Mrs. John Raymond Lapham, Mrs. William Carl Ruediger, Mrs. Oscar B. Hunter, Mrs. E. E. Farrington, Mrs. Jesse Nicholson and Mrs. Carl W. Corby.

The program which the club will sing on May 26, includes "New Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Ball, "Hark Jolly Shepherds," by Thomas Morley, the Three Chanteys, arranged by Bartholomew, "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," and other numbers which demonstrate the advance in artistic presentation. Richard Kilstein, the tenor soloist of the club, will take part in the program.

Following the concert there will be dancing to the music of Sydney's Mayflower Orchestra until 1.00 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained from the Bursar's Office, 2033 G Street N. W., or from any member of the Glee Club at the price of $1.00 per person. This will be an informal affair.

MISS CULLEN WILL HEAD COLUMBIAN WOMEN AGAIN

Behren, Dieder, Girts, LeMenager, Foster, Getty, and Knappen Also Elected

At the final meeting of the year of the Columbian Women of the George Washington University, which was held on Tuesday at the country home of Mrs. Edwin C. Brandenburg, Miss Elizabeth Cullen was re-elected president of the organization for the coming year.

Other officers named were: Mrs. Edwin B. Behren, first vice-president; Miss Virginia Dieder, second vice-president; Miss Maxine Girts, recording secretary; Miss Marcelle LeMenager, corresponding secretary; Miss Esther Foster, treasurer; Miss Mildred Getty, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. T. M. Knappen, historian.

In closing the meeting, Miss Cullen paid tribute to the work of the officers and committee chairman and expressed her gratitude for the wholehearted cooperation of the membership.

LE CERCLE GALLIA PLANS LAST MEETING THURSDAY

Le Cercle Gallia will hold its final meeting of the year tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Phi Mu Rooms, 2024 G Street. A musical program is scheduled for the evening, including vocal selections by Professor Protzman. All interested are cordially invited.

Plans for the ensuing school year will also be formulated at this time, and the society requests that all members particularly be present in order to aid in the necessary business transactions.

HISTORY CLUB BANQUET WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Saturday evening, May 17, at 7.30 p. m., the History Club will hold its annual banquet at the Dodge Hotel. During the banquet the name of the winner of the club's contest for a concise history of the United States will be announced and the prize of twenty-five dollars in gold will be awarded.

Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser will be the principal speaker. Dr. Charles C. Swisher, Dr. Samuel F. Bemis, Dr. George M. Churchill, and Dr. Lowell J. Ragatz will be the guests of honor. Tickets may be secured from Mildred Conklin at $1.75.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY HOSTESS AT PLAY DAY

The Women's Athletic Association of American University was hostess to George Washington and Wilson Normal at a Play Day, on Saturday, May 10, at 2 o'clock.

About 20 girls went out with Miss Atwell and Miss Laurence from G. W. Color teams were made up, with girls of all three schools competing on the same team.

The events of the afternoon were basketball, volley ball, tennis, archery, track, and baseball. Refreshments were served on the campus at 5 o'clock to all the participants.

India Bell Corea was chairman of the committee for preparations at G. W.

SUMMER SCHOOL

All students who plan to attend the 1930 session of summer school may register any time from May 15 to May 28. Students are urged to take advantage of this period to avoid the usual rush in June.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOW OPERATIVE IN ALL DIVISIONS

Elections Were Held Friday in Gymnasium and Medical School

PARTY TICKETS ARE SPLIT IN CASTING OF FINAL VOTE

Nine Hundred Ballots Are Cast In Very Hotly Contested Election

The elections of the Student Council last Friday were characterized by split-ticket votes and the close running of several candidates made the final results indeterminate until late Saturday morning. The elections were held in the gymnasium and in the Medical School to name representatives from the several schools. Five were elected from Columbian College, and one each from the other schools. A total of over 900 votes was cast, in what was probably the University's most hotly contested election. The Hatchet's "point four" is discarded.

Those elected were: Columbian College, Joe Howard, Edith Norris, Maude Hudson, Dorothy Albert and Arthur Kriemelmeyer; Graduate School, Margaret Rees; School of Medicine, John J. Kennedy; Law School, Hearst Duncan; School of Engineering, James M. Brearly; School of Education, Wilhelmina Gude; School of Pharmacy, Peter Garofalo; School of Government, Harry D. Ruddiman; Division of Library Science, Anna Laura Sanford; Division of Fine Arts, Edwin Weihe.

Students Supervise Elections

The elections were sponsored by the Committee on Student Life, the members of which are Winifrede Beall, Ford Young, Dorothy Ruth and Herbert Angel. Nominations were made by the student body, any three students being sufficient to place the candidate on the ballot. Dr. Warren R. West, of the School of Government, acted as faculty adviser to the Committee, was assisted by a number of students in holding the elections.

The Council will begin to function immediately, and will take over the powers formerly given the various class officers. In addition, it will have charge of the social calendar, and it is expected that the calendar will be run more efficiently hereafter.

In making the plans for the Council, the Student Life Committee recommended that the members should elect one of their number to act as president of the Council and ex-officio president of the student body, and that two others should be named vice-president and secretary-treasurer. This will, in all probability, be done in the near future.

No platforms were announced publicly, so choices were made from personal knowledge of the candidates, as by voting the party tickets of the two opposing groups of fraternities and sororities. In the final count the two tickets were split, one party placing three candidates from Columbian College, where the contest centered, the others gaining two. The closeness of the vote is shown by the fact that the two candidates standing fourth and fifth in number of votes tied with 189 apiece, while the sixth man had 188.

Final Count

Candidates nominated and the number each received follows: Columbian College, Joe Howard, 216; Edith Norris, 208; Maude Hudson, 202; Dorothy Albert, 189; Arthur Kriemelmeyer, 189; Fletcher Henderson, 188; Lee Carlin, 173; Scott G. Rigby, 168; John W. Thacker, 147; Kathryn Dille, 133; Norman R. Hagen, 31; Richard W. Finkel, 47; Hugh K. Clark, 29; Richmond T. Zoch, 21.

Graduate School, Margaret Rees, 5; Karl J. Moser, 2; School of Medicine, John J. Kennedy, 34; Morris Silverman, 10; Law School, Hearst Duncan, 79; William J. Snow, Jr., 73; Charles R. Kirk, 37; Robert Stearns, 34; School of Engineering, James M. Brearly, 73; Frank H. Bronaugh, 36; School of Education, Wilhelmina Gude, 15; Elizabeth Morrow, 8; School of Pharmacy, Peter Garofalo, 13; Herman B. Bretler, 11; Charles P. Williams, 3; School of Government, Harry R. Ruddiman, 14; Wenzel, 1; Division of Library Science, Anna Laura Sanford, 2 (uncontested); Division of Fine Arts, Edwin Weihe, 13; Arthur B. Darton, 2.

Thirty-six students nominated, 14 elected, with a total of approximately 900 votes.

DEBATE FINALS PENDING

The semi-final round of the intra-fraternity debates were held on Wednesday and Friday of last week, Alpha Delta Pi defeating Phi Sigma Sigma on Thursday and Theta Delta Chi defeating Tau Alpha Omega on Friday. The finals will take place next Friday when Pi Beta Phi will contest Alpha Delta Pi for the Delta Sigma Rho Cup. At this time Theta Delta Chi will compete with Phi Sigma Kappa.

NOW FOR THE WORK

Student Council elections are over. They have, furthermore, stirred up more interest and brought out more votes than the old class officer elections ever did.

The students voting used individual choice instead of following the political line-up. This was anticipated by those who instituted the plans for the Council. It is comparatively easy for a group of half a dozen fraternities and some sororities to divide the spoils and win a class election, but when the whole student body of a school is voting, and interested in choosing the best person for the office instead of voting a straight ticket, the election is put on a somewhat higher plane than small campus politics.

True, both parties on the campus now have outstanding members on the Council, but the point we wish to stress is that they were elected because they were the persons they are instead of because they were the choice of a small political caucus. Our argument is that if political causes were the only reasons for their elections, their whole party would have been elected.

Last week in these columns we advocated the election of the best persons, regardless of political affiliations. Now we rejoice that that has been done. Individually, this Board of Editors will not agree in every instance, but as a whole, we feel that the student body, as the electorate, has done an excellent job.

And finally, we remind you that this week THE HATCHET removes its "point four" from the head of this column: "The Hatchet advocates: * * * 4. The abolition of class officers and the organization of a representative student governing council."

This plank of our platform was added last Fall. It is now deleted, as the goal which it expressed has been reached.

DUE CREDIT TO OUR PREDECESSORS

"Off with the old and on with the new."

The Hatchet Board has elected its successors and gone its way. Year by year those who have been in training for the last few years are raised to the position of member of the Board of Editors of the Hatchet, replacing those who graduate.

This is at once advantageous and disadvantageous.

It is an advantage to have the new blood on the Board but as great a disadvantage to lose the experience of the older members.

This year the members graduating have been responsible for amalgamating the student publications of the University. The first greater Hatchet is to be published May 28. This is the greatest harvest of the work of the outgoing Board of Editors and a harvest in which they will not seemingly benefit.

We, the New Board, wish now to say that the glory of putting out the greater Hatchet which will come out under our names is due, largely, to the untiring perseverance of the retiring Board.

The new initiates of Kappa Delta Sorority were given a banquet at the Carlton by the active members.

Alpha Kappa Kappa announces the coming marriage, on June 9, of Miss Mary Lawrence, of Columbus, Ohio, to Ray Jarvis, a junior in the Medical School.

The annual meeting of the District Medical Society, held at the District Medical Building on Wednesday, May 7, was well attended by professors and students of the Medical School. The entire sophomore class reviewed the interesting pathological display. Drs. Leon S. Gordon and O. B. Hunter presented a paper, with lantern slide demonstrations, on intracranial hemorrhage of the infant.

The seniors will finish their final exams on May 22, after which, for the lucky ones, celebration will be in order.

DELTA THETA PHI HOLDS FOUNDERS' DAY BANQUET

Gathering At Hay Adams House
Featured By Many Legal Celebrities

Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity, held its Founders' Day banquet Saturday, May 10, at the Hay Adams House. Final degrees were given to several pledges previous to the banquet which was held at 8 o'clock.

The White Senate of Georgetown University Law School and the Alumni Senate united with the Woodrow Wilson Senate of George Washington in the observation of this historic event.

The list of guests of honor included a number of men prominent in educational, political, and judicial circles. Among them were Senator Arthur R. Robinson, of Indiana; Carrington T. Marshall, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court; James W. Cherry, Chief Justice of the Utah Supreme Court; William C. Van Vleet, Dean of the George Washington University Law School; Earl C. Arnold, Dean of the Vanderbilt Law School, and other congressmen, lawyers, and professors.

REICHELDERFER SPEAKS

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, President of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, was the guest of honor and speaker at the George Washington University alumni luncheon Saturday, April 26. The luncheon was held at the Hotel Lafayette, under the auspices of the General Alumni Association. Dr. Oscar Benwood Hunter, President of the Association, presided.

Dr. John Foote, Dean of the Georgetown University Medical School and President of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, and Dr. Conrson B. Conklin, Secretary of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, also were guests of honor.

Dr. Reichelderfer is an alumnus of The George Washington University, having received the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1899. He has been closely associated with the institution since his graduation, serving on the faculty for a number of years and taking an active interest in alumni affairs.

KAPPA BETA PI AWARDS

Kappa Beta Pi, International Legal Sorority, has announced the winners in their annual essay contest, which is open to all women law students. The first prize of $50.00 was won by a girl from the Paris Chapter, the second, an honorable mention, by a Miss Dorsey of Chicago, and the third, also an honorable mention, by Marlon Campbell, of the G. W. Law School. The subject of the essay was, "Should the Marriage and Divorce Laws of the United States be Uniform?"

BAPTIST UNION INSTALLS BASS AS NEW PRESIDENT

The installation of the 1930-31 officers of the Baptist Student Union took place at the regular Sunday evening services of the Calvary Baptist Church last Sunday.

John L. Bass will succeed Ella Lee Sowers as president of the Union. Other officers to be installed were Bruce Fowler, first vice-president; Dorothy Clore, second vice-president; Kenneth Baker, devotional leader; Irene McMillin, recording secretary.

Ethel F. McConnell of Nashville, a southside student secretary, in a short series of meetings, before the Easter holidays, explained the activities of other B. S. U. organizations and suggested a program outline to be followed the next school year.

The last B. S. U. program to be given this term will be in C. H. room 1, Friday, May 16, 7:10 P. M.

K. A. WINNERS IN LEAGUE A GAMES

Kappa Sigma Takes Fourteen-Inning Game From Theta Delta Chi

PHI SIGS LEAD LEAGUE B
Deltas Defeat Acacia In Hard Fought Game By Score Of 6-5

The Interfraternity Baseball Leagues were kept rather busy last week with some exciting games. Kappa Alpha took the championship of League A by winning a double-header, which gave them a clear slate for the entire series with five wins and no losses. Kappa Sigma took second place in League A winning a fourteen-inning game from the Theta Deltas by a score of 5-4. Theta Delta Chi dropped to third place and S. A. E., S. N., and T. U. O. are in fourth, fifth, and last place, respectively.

Phi Sigma Kappa took the lead in League B by virtue of its win over the S. P. E's and the defeat of Acacia at the hands of the Deltas. Acacia and Delta Tau Delta are tied for second place with Sigma Chi next and S. P. E. last.

K. A.'s Win Double Header

The K. A.'s won their first game from S. A. E. by the close score of 2-1. K. A. scored in the first inning and again in the last. The only run made by S. A. E. was in the third inning. Vogt, of K. A., pitched until the third, when he was replaced by Wells, who finished the game, while Durham hurled the entire game for S. A. E. In the second game of the double-header K. A. blanked the T. U. O.'s, 12-0, with Wells hurling for K. A. and Herzog for T. U. O.

Sigma Nu defeated Theta Upsilon Omega by a score of 8-4 to give them their first win of the season. Keller and Herzog were the pitchers for S. N. and T. U. O.

In the longest and most exciting game of the day Kappa Sigma defeated the Theta Deltas in the fourteenth inning by the score of 5-4. The game was a pitchers' duel until the end between Elliott, of K. S., and Battle, of T. D. X. The game was scoreless until the third and was tied in the seventh to remain that way until the fourteenth, when the Kappa Sigs knocked across the winning run.

In League B the Phi Sigs took their game from S. P. E. by the score of 17-2. Quarles and Verry, of P. S. K., and Davis, of S. P. E., were the hurlers for the day. The Phi Sigs ran up an eight-run lead in the first and steadily added to this as the game progressed. The S. P. E.'s did not score until the last innings, when they put two runs across the plate.

Delta Tau Delta defeated the Acacians, 6-5 in a very exciting game, as they made the winning run in the last inning. Eberly, for the Deltas and Clapper for the Acacians, did the pitching for the respective teams.

EDITOR OF THE "NATION" WILL ADDRESS LIBERALS

Oswald Garrison Villard to Speak On Russian Trip

The Liberal Club has received a telegram from Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of "The Nation" magazine, stating that he will speak to it Friday, May 16, at four o'clock in C. H. I. Mr. Villard has chosen for his subject, "Observations in Russia."

Dr. Benjamin Karpman, of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, authority on the psychology of crime, will speak on "The Psychology of Crime" at a meeting to be held on May 21, at 8:30 p. m., in Corcoran Hall, Room 1.

GORDON GETS HIGH RATING

Dr. Leon Stuart Gordon, Instructor in Pathology at the George Washington Medical School, was rated number eleven in the February examination of the National Board of Medical Examiners. There were 157 candidates from thirty-two cities in the United States.

Dr. Gordon received his M. D. "with distinction" from George Washington in 1928. In the examination for licensure in the District of Columbia he received the highest grade of the fifty-five candidates.

ENGINEERS HOLD MEETING

The George Washington student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold its last meeting of the school year tonight, May 14, at 7:30, in Building J, Room 21. Officers for next year will be elected.

Mr. Herman Stabler, of the United States Geological Survey, will present an illustrated lecture on "Surveying the Colorado River for Dam Sites."

W. A. A. POSITIONS OPEN

The position of Publicity Manager of the W. A. A. for the next year is open. Any girl interested is urged to apply to Miss Atwell stating her general qualifications. Juniors and Seniors only need apply.

MEN'S G. W. CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Plans Are Under Way For Activities of the Organization Next Year

The Men's G. W. Club met Thursday, May 1, for the election of officers for the year 1930-31. Frank Parsons, for three years a member of the rifle team and captain of the team which won both outdoor and indoor intercollegiate titles in 1928, was elected president for the coming year. The other officers elected were George B. Campbell, vice-president, and Robert A. Leighy, treasurer. Due to the small attendance it was decided to postpone the election of secretary until fall.

A short discussion of activities followed. Because of the lateness of the season and a lack of available funds, it was decided not to hold the Interclass Track Meet this year and all efforts will be centered on making the Annual Football Hop, which will probably be held shortly after the Thanks-giving Day game, a real success.

INTRAMURAL TENNIS FOR MEN UNDER WAY

Tournament Is Divided Into Upper And Lower Brackets

The Intramural Tennis Tournament is divided into an upper and lower bracket. The upper bracket contains the better players of the school, but because of team play and inclement weather it has not progressed very rapidly.

The matches will be run off as soon as possible and the winner will receive the Holt Trophy.

The lower bracket has progressed more rapidly and only four men are left out of the thirty-six that entered. It is interesting to note that two of these four men are twins, namely L. and R. Sherfy, who will oppose each other in one of the semi-final matches. The other match will be between Bradley and Ogus.

The winner of this tournament will receive a cup and a match will try to be arranged between the winners of the two brackets.

G. W. GEOLOGIST LEAVES TO EXPLORE CANYON

Expedition Seeks Animal Fossils to Establish Earliest Period

Professor C. E. Resser, George Washington University geologist, will leave tonight for the Grand Canyon of Colorado in company with several other Smithsonian Institution scientists. The expedition hopes to find animal fossils buried deep in rock strata antedating all present organic remains, which will definitely establish the time when life first appeared on this earth.

Dr. Resser has not stated what types of fossils he expects to find, but if they are to be found anywhere in the North American continent they will be found in the Grand Canyon, is his belief. He is an authority on the Cambrian Age, but he expects to go back earlier than this period and establish another in which life existed.

Many of the specimens he finds will go to the park museums, which are located around the rim of the canyon, but most of them will be brought back to the National Museum in Washington.

TENNIS VICTORY WON FROM HARRISONBURG

Turnbull Plays Outstanding Game of Afternoon; G. W. U. Wins 3-2 Victory

The Buff and Blue Co-ed Tennis team added another victory to this undefeated season when they outplayed Harrisonburg State Teachers' College on Saturday, 3-2 on the Harrisonburg courts.

Jenny Turnbull, No. 2, on the G. W. team, played the most outstanding game of the afternoon, defeating her opponent Esther Smith, (10-8) (6-1).

Mary Detwiler lost her singles match to Lena Bones (7-5) (6-2). The entire play was closer than the score would indicate, almost every game going to deuce several times. The match depended more on stubbornness than ability.

Judy Fishburn defeated Othelda Mitchell after a three-set match. Judy lost her first match (1-6), and immediately rallied to win over her opponent (6-4), (6-2), in the next two sets.

In the doubles matches, Detwiler and Turnbull won over Bones and Smith (6-1) (7-9) (6-4); after a beautiful match, Sprout and Butler were defeated by Harvey and Mitchell (6-3) (9-7) (6-2).

Next Saturday G. W. will meet William and Mary College in Washington on the Monument Courts.

W. A. A. REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT AT CONFERENCE

Athletic Conference of College Women Held at Ann Arbor During Easter Holidays

Mary Hudson and Roberta Wright were chosen as representatives of the local Women's Athletic Association to go to the Athletic Conference of College Women held in Ann Arbor, Mich., during the Easter holidays.

The women's athletic department of the University just became a member of the A. C. A. C. W. this year and expects to derive many benefits from the Association.

The principal speaker of the conference was Miss Nellie Lee Hall, religious instructor of Stephen's College, Columbia, Mo., who spoke on "After College, What?"

There were approximately 175 colleges and universities represented at the conference and about 275 delegates.

The two G. W. delegates are now anxious of begin putting into practical use some of the many suggestions received for intra-murals next year.

TENNIS CLASS STARTS

A tennis class conducted by Bob Considine, captain of the tennis team, will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 4:30 to 5:30 on the G. W. tennis court. The lessons are gratis, but regular attendance will be required.

INTRAMURAL CLUBS PROPOSED BY W. A. A.

General W. A. A. Meeting And "Get-Together" Dinner To Be Held Tonight

On Wednesday, May 7, the Executive Board of the Woman's Athletic Association held a meeting at which Roberta Wright and Mary Hudson, the president and vice president, respectively, who had just returned from the Athletic Council of American College Women's Convention, made a report.

The Board decided to start a number of clubs based on sports but to be participated in solely for pleasure. There will be a riding club, a swimming club and an outing club. These clubs are expected to be a means of reaching women not interested in group sports. Those interested are invited to sign up in the gym.

The final banquet will be held Tuesday, May 20, at Beaver Dam Country Club, at 7:30. All who have participated in sports during the year are invited to attend, charges, $1.00. The staff of the Physical Education Department will be the committee in charge of the affair.

There will be a general W. A. A. meeting Wednesday, May 14, at seven o'clock, in C. H. I. Hereafter, before the general meeting "get-together dinners" will be held at nearby cafeterias. This week's dinner will be at Park Lane Cafeteria. Notices of the dinner and meeting are being sent to all members. Replies should be sent to Janice Burroughs.

CHEERLEADING SQUAD IS PROGRESSING ADMIRABLY

Under the direction and tutelage of Jerry Sickler, newly appointed head cheer leader, the cheer-leading squad is progressing admirably. A squad of ten men is being carried, from which the team will be selected. Any man on the squad fulfilling the requirements will receive a letter, while the remaining members will receive credit for physical education. Jack Vivian has been temporarily appointed as manager. New uniforms of a snappy nature will be supplied and a new system of leading will be employed. Plans are under way to form a band, and compulsory freshmen attendance at games is being considered.

SENIOR MED BOWLERS BEAT LOWERCLASSMEN

The bowling team of the Senior Class of the Medical School, spurred on by the loquacious but able bowling of Ben Jones, vanquished the Fresh-Soph team in a match held last week. Jones led his team with a set of 334. Others bowling for the seniors were Merlo, Katzman, Kelly, and Dobkin. The members of the losing team were Richardson, Reeves, Amster, Coleman, Crain, and Silverman.

This match culminated a very successful season for the Seniors, who lost only one match.

INTER-COLLEGE BASEBALL

The Baseball Tournament which has been played between the five colleges, namely, Columbian, Law, Pharmacy, Pre-medical and Engineering, is drawing to a close. Columbian College is leading with five wins and no defeats.

The feature game will be on Tuesday, May 13, between Columbian College and Law. The winner of this will win the series. Vogt will pitch for Columbian College and Clapper will pitch for the Law.

Episcopalians Plan Corporate Communion

Next Meeting of the Club To Be Held On May 22

The G. W. Episcopal Club will hold its early morning corporate communion service May 18 at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Ascension.

The regular meeting of the Club will be held May 22 on the second floor of Building M, the Women's Building at which time the Club will be addressed by the Reverend Mr. Derr. His topic will be "The Episcopal Church, Past and Present." He will also give a report on interesting statistics which he has been taking at G. W.

Thursday, May 8, the Episcopal Club was entertained at a dinner and dance at St. Luke's Episcopal Church Parish House, Bladensburg, Md. Everyone had a very enjoyable evening.

RICHARDSON LEADS CHAPEL

Chapel was conducted Friday, May 9, by Doctor E. E. Richardson, in place of Provost Wilbur as is customary.

Dr. Pasma Tells of Romantic Experiences He Encountered During Adventurous Life

Pastor Who Received Doctor of Philosophy Degree from George Washington University, "Close Hauled"; Native of Holland Plied Numerous Occupations

Sailor, immigrant, farmer, machinist, painter, preacher, Ph. D., are episodes in the strenuous life of the recent graduate of George Washington University, Mr. Henry K. Pasma.

It is hard to imagine that the little Netherland boy, looking wistfully across the sea from the dykes has become this tall resolute doctor of philosophy, standing upright in the pulpit of a church before hundreds of the brethren of his adopted country, thousands of miles away. But we cannot deny it. The story of his life is simply and forcefully set forth in his autobiography "Close Hauled."

Childhood Spent at Sea

Tales of "Treasure Island," delight the American boy with their romance of the sea. As a boy Mr. Pasma never read "Treasure Island," but the sea held even more for him. The childish romance, the love of adventure, welled deep within him and to this was fused that strong religious sense that lent a glamour to his whole life and brought him to America, a child of fortune who schooled himself to be a man of God.

The heart-rending days of youth spent on board ships traversing the cold northernmost seas, the struggles against icy blasts high up in the frozen shrouds, the narrow games of tag with death in and out the breakers off the Norwegian coasts, now are past. They are gone with the going of the sail and the coming of steam. They are gone before the new enlightenment of science, and Mr. Pasma does not regret their going.

Worked at Various Jobs

He has seen the famed St. Elmo's fire in pale ghoulish light shrouding the yard arms and masts; he has kept company with the stars on long nights of vigil at the wheel; he has sweated at the anchor chains and with paint buckets beneath blazing suns on the scorched wooden decks; he realizes the loss at the passing of the old order, and yet looks toward the future as offering greater gains.

America, the land of independence, of opportunity. He with thousands of others thrilled at the first sight of this land, and with fervid hopes plunged into his new life over here. Patient years in the past he had struggled to master our language; over here he devoured the public libraries as miracles of God. As farmer's helper, as factory worker, as amateur house painter, he worked his way onward and upward through college.

Author of Many Books

Always there was foremost in his mind the desire some day to be in the ministry. How well he has succeeded is shown by the pastorates he has held. At present he is the pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Rockville, Md.

Here at George Washington University Mr. Pasma received his Ph. D. degree, in June, 1929. His days at George Washington he recalls as the most pleasant of his life. Here he has consummated the education, for which in his own words, he has "worked at everything under the sun." He majored in philosophy. He has published other books, "Things a Nation Lives By" and "God's Picked Young Men." But perhaps the most valued by him is the one he has just published, after leaving George Washington University, the story of his life "Close Hauled." "All through its pages you are filled with the dramatic experiences through which this Dutch boy passes," said Edward Bok in the introduction he wrote for it just before he died.

NORTHWESTERN CO-ED WRITES PRIZE WINNER

Young Girl, Who Was Never Famous On Campus, Takes First Place In Contest

Betty White, class of '29, Northwestern University, never became president of anything, captain of anything, queen of anything, but she did come in first in the College Humor-Doubleday, Doran Campus Prize Novel Contest. I Lived This Story has been selected from hundreds of novels submitted by college people throughout the country. Betty acknowledges Kappa Kappa Gamma and many early writings in campus publications.

The discovery of Betty White, winner of the College Humor-Doubleday, Doran $3,000 Campus Prize Novel Contest, is announced in the June issue of College Humor, together with the beginning of Miss White's serial, I Lived This Story.

People fed on the college films of Miss Clara Bow may be puzzled over I Lived This Story. Betty White has drawn a story out of the rich comedy of college life. She is bitter, she is minutely observing, but she is always more than a satirist. Bernard DeVoto, who knows her very well, has this to say:

"She appeared at the opening meeting of a class of mine, a timid, quiet child with deep eyes and the hair and features of an angel done in stained glass for a cathedral window. There was a paradox in that, for at Northwestern, whatever adjectives you might apply to co-eds who are good looking, you don't think of timid and quiet. It was an advanced class, and she had no right in it; but I let her stay because my native pity responds to cathedral windows. The girl may have been timid and quiet, but assuredly her pen wasn't. In five years of teaching composition I have seen nothing that distantly approached it."

"College fiction usually belongs to one of two schools. On the one hand we have stories about impossibly virile super-athletes and ridiculously seductive girls who converse in what would be epigrams if they didn't misfire—this is the fiction born of the reveries of the repressed and disappointed, and all the farm boys are out of Conde Nast. All the co-eds are a blend of Lady Windermere and Helen Morgan, and Sigma Chi is hardly distinguishable from the Union League. And on the other hand we have fiction by twenty-year-old A. B.'s who have reasoned that there is a perceptible difference between old Swish and the Sorbonne—these juveniles cry bitterly and the result is called, I believe, debunking."

"College as we have experienced it is not discernible in either sort of masterpiece, and you and I, reading more of both than is good for our nerves, have sometimes prayerfully desired fiction that would offer us something in which we could have the pleasure of recognition. Well, class, here it is."

The development of Dorinda Clark is a portrait of a young girl, by a young girl who has never before written a novel and has set down here a record of her thoughts and actions, with occasional dramatic crescendo. Here is the real story of a real college girl.

GOLF INTRAMURALS IN QUARTER-FINAL STAGE

The Intramural Golf Tournament, which has been under way for the past few weeks is going into the quarter-finals, with eight competitors left.

The tournament started with 26 entrants and among those left are Charles Cole, Junior Champion of the District, John Owens, outstanding golfer of Virginia, West, champion of Maine and John Shorey, who holds many titles.

The winner of this tournament will be presented with a loving cup.

DR. RICHARDSON SPEAKS

Dr. Charles A. Richardson, professor of Philosophy at George Washington University, read a paper at Maryland University before a gathering of Baltimore and Washington ministers, three college presidents and many students. The paper was on a prominent subject of the day, "Has Science Changed Religion?" Dr. Richardson's last book has lately been reviewed in the London Times.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

MAY 29—June 4, 1930

Rooms in which examinations are held are stated in the right margin. Books and scratch papers may not be taken into the examination room unless authorized by the instructor in charge.

Examinations will be two hours in length.

Courses in Law, Medicine, and Pharmacy will be arranged by each school involved.

Third group courses are not included. The class schedule is suspended during the examination period.

Errors and conflicts which can not be adjusted with the instructor should be reported to the Assistant Registrar.
